

At the 'Ville.

Mrs. Elisha Bigelow is in Boston this week having treatment for her injured foot.

Leon Willey returns this week from a preparatory school in Middletown, Conn., and will remain with his father for a time. He is to enter Tufts College in the fall.

Mrs. A. L. Finney has been seriously ill the past week with a bad throat and bronchial trouble.

Miss Estelle Gronberg is confined to the house with blood poison in her foot. Mrs. H. E. Folsom is in Concord, N. H., for a few days.

Miss Lillian Fairbrother and Mrs. Ray Bean started Monday for a trip of some duration, visiting in Montpelier, in Claremont, Lyme and other New Hampshire towns.

G. M. Campbell with his son Gilbert, and A. M. Ricker of St. Johnsbury took an automobile trip last week to Lancaster, West Stewartstown and other New Hampshire places and Averill, going about 300 miles.

The first arrests for infraction of the automobile laws were made Saturday. Mr. Way of West Burke and Mr. Wright of St. Johnsbury, for running without numbers. Mr. Way settled the matter and Mr. Wright pleaded not guilty and secured bonds for his appearance at court. There have been many complaints in regard to high speeding and careless driving.

The closing of both high and graded schools last week was followed by a general exodus of the out of town teachers, Misses Croff and Bonney to Marlboro, Mass., Mr. Kibbee to Randolph, Mr. Van Slyke to Antwerp, N. Y. Of the graded school teachers, Miss Kimball goes to Hardwick, Miss Cady to Morrisville, Miss Gibson to West Burke, Miss McGovern to South Wheelock and Miss Cunningham to her home in this town. There will be many changes in the personnel of both schools in the fall.

Mrs. Harry H. White of Fitch Bay, P. Q., was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Finney, last week, coming both to visit and to attend commencement at the Institute.

An informal and pleasant social gathering of the Lyndon Union Club was held at the beautiful home of Mrs. Theodore Vail, Saturday, from 2 to 4. The club was largely represented and a delightful afternoon was spent in visiting the greenhouses, and inspecting the grounds, all of which are now in the full height of their beauty. Refreshments of cake and sherbet were served in the house while Mr. Vail played several beautiful selections on the organ. There were present Mrs. Rebecca Fairbanks and Miss Caroline S. Woodruff of St. Johnsbury, with Mrs. Fletcher D. Proctor. It is hoped the club may have more of these informal social gatherings during the summer.

On Friday evening, June 25, the lights will be turned off and the power will be shut down for about a week, in order to make some necessary repairs at the electric light station. At the same time the railroad shops will take the opportunity to make some repairs and will lay off part of their forces. It is hoped to accomplish all these changes in a week, to avoid inconveniencing the public any longer than necessary.

At the Universalist church next Sunday children's day will be observed at the time of the regular morning service. The children of the Sunday school are preparing a very pretty little program of speaking and singing. Rev. Mr. McLaughlin will give a short talk to the children, and the day will be appropriately observed.

Lorne Donney, for so many years a faithful and efficient workman for Dodge & Watson, is to leave town about July 20, and go to Newport, where he will go into business for himself, carpet cleaning, picture framing and all kinds of upholstery. There is a good field there for this business, and as Mr. Donney is thoroughly competent, he will no doubt make a success. Many friends hope that he will do so, while regretting that he and his wife are to leave this place.

The Congregational pulpit was occupied Sunday morning by Rev. J. K. Fuller. Mrs. Charles Norris is quite ill, and Miss Susan Cunningham is caring for her for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward McGinnis have rented a tenement on the second floor of the Eaton house on Center street. They will move there as soon as Mrs. McGinnis is able, she now being a sufferer from a bad fall, and a severe attack of sciatic rheumatism.

Mrs. Cardinal Goodwin and son, accompanied by her grandmother, who has been visiting her for a few weeks, left Monday to spend a month with her parents in Massachusetts. Mr. Goodwin will join them later.

Adelbert Eaton of Boston is expected next week to spend the Fourth with his sisters, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Cunningham.

Mrs. Josephine Wilder has returned home from a visit to her son, Dr. Richard Wilder, at Whitefield.

Graded School Closed.

The graded school closed a most successful year, Friday, after a week of the usual examinations and final tests. In the usual exercises, this year their efforts were concentrated on the production of the pleasing operetta, "Florida, or the Rose and Pearl," which was given in Music Hall, Friday evening, under the charge of Mrs. Charles Norris, musical director, and Miss Margaret Robinson, stage manager. The hall was packed with spectators and the entertainment was one of the prettiest and most successful the children have ever given. All the grades except the first took part, and their sweet faces, fresh white costumes and enthusiastic voices combined to make a stage ensemble not easily forgotten. The characters were Florida, Oona Roundy; Younger, her brother, Lucy Carr; Fortuna, the fairy queen, Verna Gero; Vala, the witch, Rowena Clark; fairies, Madeline Robinson, Verna Swail; witches, Hazel Cote, Marion Gorham; chorus of witches and fairies. The palm for acting most certainly be awarded to Miss Rowena Clark, a most successful and gruesome witch, and to Miss Lucy Carr, who as Younger, in her boy's hunting costume, was so sweet, modest, and altogether charming, that she brought the audience to her feet. Between the acts the Florida Quartet—Misses Roundy, Gero, Eastman and Carr—came before the curtain and sang the charming "Sleep, Kentucky Babe," with a success truly wonderful for young girls. At the close of the opera, a good military drill was given by sixteen of the eighth and ninth grade boys, who were carefully rehearsed by F. J. Willey. Following this was an attractive flag drill by twelve girls, trained by Marguerite Robinson. As the curtain descended, the girls were grouped before the great flag, singing the "Star Spangled Banner," and forming a graceful and beautiful picture. The success of the entertainment is largely due to the faithful training and efficient discipline of our corps of teachers, who are doing good work and deserve the appreciation of all.

Institute Commencement.

Friday, June 18, was Commencement day at Lyndon Institute. The graduating exercises were held as usual in Music Hall, which was decorated with flowers and plants. The hall was fairly well filled, though the innovation in the program prevented the general interest and the large crowds which usually assemble to hear the children speak on this, their great day. The program was carried out as follows: Music by Aubin's orchestra; prayer by Rev. J. W. Burgin; solo, "The silent world is sleeping," Mrs. H. M. Smith; address by Rev. C. M. Melden, Ph. D., pastor of the Methodist church at Newton Center, Mass. Mr. Melden is a fine, polished and easy speaker. His sentences were crisp and keenly cut, and his words full of practical wisdom and good sense. His subject was "True success, and its essentials." It was a most valuable talk and one which was closely followed by the audience. After the address Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. McVicar rendered a beautiful duet, "Cheerfulness." Mr. Goodwin presented the diplomas with a few appropriate words, announced the honor students, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. W. Burgin.

We understand that the custom of substituting an address by an outside speaker for the customary essays and orations by the graduating class, is obtaining ground in many places, but that the innovation is not pleasing to the people here, is easily shown by the diminished attendance and lack of interest. The honor list for the year is as follows: Senior class, valedictory, Paul Cheney; salutatory, Martha Sias; Rose MacLaughlin receives honorable mention. The highest honors in the school for the year go to Rodney Gray with an average of 95%.

Alumni Banquet and Reunion.

About 75 were present at the 21st annual banquet and reunion of the alumni which took place at one o'clock Friday afternoon in the vestry of the Congregational church. The ladies of this society served an excellent banquet which was greatly enjoyed by all. At its conclusion very interesting post-prandial exercises served to revive old memories and establish old bonds of friendship. Mr. Arthur Simpson, '05, was the toastmaster. First on the program was a duet by Alice Campbell and Ruth Butler. Greeting to '09 was given wittily by George Steele, '08, and the response by Paul Cheney. Ruez Rice of '74 gave most interesting reminiscences of his distant school days. Next was a vocal solo by Roy Gage, '03. The poem of the occasion was written and read by Mrs. Grace (Finney) White. It was a fine production reflecting great credit upon the author. Martin B. Daniels spoke most interestingly upon "The Alumni Ideal for the Institute." "Champlain" was Rev. J. K. Fuller's subject. Impromptu speeches were made by Rev. J. W. Burgin, Rev. I. W. MacLaughlin and Principal C. L. Goodwin. The exercises closed with the Lyndon Institute chorus sung with great spirit by all assembled, and all adjourned feeling that the occasion was a great success.

Eighty-Nine Years Young.

The 89th birthday of Mrs. Betsy Stearns Randall was observed at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ida F. Robinson, yesterday. Children, grandchildren and great grandchildren were present to pay homage to one of Lyndonville's most popular women. Several generations were represented, by Mrs. Randall aged 89, Mrs. Robinson, 42, Arthur Robinson, 21, and his only child, two-year-old Doris Robinson. Another daughter, Mrs. Georgianna Wallace, was also present with her daughter, Mrs. Bessie Brown, and grandson, Wallace Brown. Mrs. Randall was born in St. Johnsbury, June 22, 1820, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Stearns, and on April 11, 1839, married James H. Randall at that place. After their marriage they lived for 20 years at Danville. From that place they came to Lyndon Center, where for nine years Mr. Randall conducted a blacksmith shop. Forty-one years ago they came to this place and built the third house in the village, now known as the Dennison house on Main street. They moved into the house with neither doors nor windows and for some time their neighbors kindly stored their valuables. The house still stands. Mr. Randall died 15 years ago. Of 11 children born to them six are now living. They are Loren Randall of Wheelock, Sias Randall of Farnham, P. Q., Mrs. Georgianna Wallace, George Randall and Mrs. Ida F. Robinson of this place, and Mrs. Carrie B. Gordon of Springfield, Mass. All of them are married, and all except George have children and grandchildren, making in all six children, 15 grandchildren, and 13 great grandchildren. Notwithstanding her advanced age, Mrs. Randall is active, entertaining, and above all industrious. She has never worn glasses, has a remarkably retentive memory, and though she has children whose hair is gray, her own still retains its youthful lustre. She is considered an expert needle woman, and it is no unusual thing to find her either reading or plying the needle long after the rest of the household have retired. Nor has her work in this line been in vain, for fancy articles from her hands have brought and are still bringing good prices. A fancy silk quilt made after she was 85 years old, was disposed of for $25, and she has within a few weeks completed a silk sofa pillow.

The Lyndon Institute base ball team closed a very successful season by defeating Woodville High on the car house grounds, Friday afternoon by the score of 8 to 4. Out of eight games played they have won five and lost three. Campbell has pitched every game and that he has been effective is shown by their total of 42 scores for the season against all opponents 22. Only two teams have won from them and they more than evened up with one of these, St. Johnsbury Academy, by defeating that team 13 to 1 in the opening game. The games played and results are as follows:

St. J. Academy	1	Lyndon Institute	13
Woodville High	1	"	2
Barton Academy	0	"	2
Orleans High	2	"	0
Barton Academy	1	"	6
Orleans High	7	"	4
St. J. Academy	6	"	4
Woodville High	4	"	8

The friends of the Institute will be glad to know that the repair fund has reached the sum total of $3800, including the generous gift of Mr. Vail. The cook book fund is raised to $1000, while $900 has been contributed in other ways and by individuals. Mr. Vail's offer to double the amount brings it up to $3800. Repairs are to begin at once, and will include new floors and new plumbing, decorating and painting inside and out, and the addition of a large number of improvements and conveniences.
